Certified high quality products

Food Shipping Hub is an international food trading company specialized in the import and export of agricultural and food products, with a strong focus on the meat industry. With great experience in global trade, we connect reliable producers with international buyers across Latin America, Europe, and China.

We manage the full supply chain, including sourcing, quality control, logistics, and documentation, ensuring that all products meet international standards and market requirements. Our expertise in the Chinese market, supported by our local presence, allows us to efficiently coordinate commercial operations and distribution. As a trusted trading partner, we focus on long-term relationships, providing consistent supply, professional execution, and deep knowledge of international food markets.

Product Description

Chicken feet & chicken paws are widely consumed in China, used in braised dishes, dim sum, and snacks due to their high collagen content. Chicken wings are popular in retail, food service, and processed foods. Chicken offals (liver, gizzards) are used in traditional cuisine and ready meals.
